

Parental Power of Attorney

Instructions for Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child

Please review the following important information before completing and signing this document. Consult with an attorney if you have questions or concerns.

Talk to the person you want to designate in order to determine if that person is willing to care for your child if you are unable or unavailable. This should be a person you know and trust to provide proper care for your child. Give the original signed document to the designated person once it is completed, and keep a copy of the document for your own records.

The Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child can be used to designate someone other than a parent who will care for your child(ren) in the event that you are unavailable or unable.

You do not give up your parental rights by signing this document, and this document does not go into effect until signed. Once you sign this document, the person who you have designated to care for your child(ren) will have the authority to take any actions that may be necessary in order to care for the child(ren), including authority over health care, schooling, and benefits for the child(ren). This document does not need to be filed with a court in order to be effective. This Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child becomes effective once the listed triggering event, such as your extreme illness, incapacity due to illness, or death occurs. This document must be notarized by a notary public, and is only valid for twelve (12) months after the signature date. If you need the Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child for longer than twelve months, you will need to sign a new Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child.

You may revoke this Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child at any time. In order to revoke this document, you should write "I now revoke the Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child that I granted to [name of the designated person] that I signed on [date you signed the Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child]. This is effective immediately." Sign this statement, date the statement, and deliver a copy to the designated person ("attorney in fact"). The Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child is not revoked until you properly notify the designated person that it is revoked.

This document does not create a guardianship. Guardianships are created through a court, and petition to do so must be filed with a court.

Both parents with legal rights to their child(ren) should sign a Power of Attorney Delegating Parental Powers for Minor Child. You, as a parent, are still responsible for ensuring the proper care and support of your child(ren). If the designated person fails to provide proper care for your child(ren), you may still be held responsible for that failure.

There may be additional requirement or documents that must be completed in order to allow the designated person to take certain actions for the child(ren). In order to enroll a child in school, the designated person will need to complete Form 2, provided by the Indiana Department of Education.

This form is made under Indiana law and is intended for parents and children who reside in Indiana. Be sure you understand this form before signing it. This document is not intended to be legal advice and does not create an attorney-client relationship.

Use these instructions to complete this document:

1. When writing anyone's name, use the person's full legal name as it appears on a birth certificate or government issued identification document.
2. Write your name above "name of parent".
3. Write the name of the person who you want to care for your child(ren) above "Name of Attorney in Fact". The "attorney in fact" is the person who you are designating that will care for your child(ren).
4. Write the name and date of birth for each of your children who are under the age of eighteen (18) in the blank lines provided for the children.
5. Sign the document above "Parent's Signature" and write the day's date in the presence of a notary. Do not sign this document until you are in front of a notary public.
